PROGRAM: MA INTERNATIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS

Program Focus
Recommended Major:
Law

Duration:
1 year

Level of study:
Master

Description:

The Masters programme in International Law and Human Rights provides students with a thorough knowledge and understanding of the role of international law in today's complex global society, and its impacts, successes and challenges in the 'quest' to promote human rights at all levels.

This highly interactive and stimulating programme, which attracts students from all parts of the world, is carefully designed for both lawyers interested in human rights practice on the ground, as well as for field practitioners interested in human rights protection, strategic litigation, and advocacy.

Thus, the programme aims to ensure that all its graduates are equipped with the tools necessary for working in the various aspects of the interface between international law and human rights, including with inter-governmental, governmental and non-governmental organizations.
